ADMINISTRATION

The PRESIDENT

Dear Fellow-students:

I greet you this year as I have never had to greet you before, because we all stand within the darkest shadows that have hung over the world in your generation. Still I do not greet you with less optimism than your predecessors, nor with less faith and idealism. The world is asking the schools, and that means you, what we are going to do to help save it.

How shall I answer for you except to say that the same kind of men and women, who have saved the world in other dark ages, will save it now. That is the kind I would have you become. But remember that these heroic souls were those who first saved themselves—saved themselves from cowardice, from falsehood, from disloyalty, from selfishness. They only who have displaced these sins with their opposite virtues, can be true to a great cause and do a noble part in the salvation of the world.

This is your world. I challenge you—forth to the conquest!

Eric W. Hardy.

Mrs. Mary Zickgraf, Secretary to Mr. Markert; Miss Elizabeth Lee, Secretary to Mr. Hardy; and Miss Elenora Mertins, Registrar—a congenial and co-operative trio, indeed!

Most informal!

The 1941

and the DEAN...

Dean A. P. Markert, B. S., M. A.

It is again my privilege and pleasure to bring to you a message. At this time in the history of the world it is not enough to wish you merely happiness and success in the days to come, sincere as my wish may be. It is evident to each of us that in these trying times we must all have an inner courage, a spirit of fortitude that will enable us to carry on in the face of as yet unrealized dangers and hardships.

No man can in himself alone, find comfort and support, inner peace and happiness. He must come to know God, find his support and courage in God's great love. Only by seeking God can we find Him, and it is my sincere desire that you may come to know intimately Our Heavenly Father, and Christ, his only son, and that through faith in Him you may find that courage and fortitude which will enable you to face the future with hope and confidence and good cheer.

A. P. Markert, Dean.

Dean Markert seems to be enjoying the annual Faculty Banquet. Mr. Henry Read and his sister, Mrs. Emily Walters, are with the Dean.

Last Will and Testament of The 1941 Sophomore Class

We, the Sophomore class of J.C.A., being ushered (?) out (finally) in the year 1941 A. D., being most capable of all insane and unsafe actions, do hereby bequeath and bestow grudgingly all our unworldly possessions in hope that they may continue annoying the teachers of aforementioned school;

- Item I. We, the home room class of Mr. C. A. Scruggs, do leave to his incoming class our ability to walk in exactly one second after he has marked us absent.
- Item II. I. Patrick Calhoun, do bequeath, to anyone who is "sap" enough to take it, my job as chauffeur to the entire student body of J.C.A., and I bequeath my parking place on Bransford Road to anyone who has a bright red junk-heap like mine.
- Item III. I, Barbara Adams, do leave to Joan Scharnitzsky, my ability to chew gum unmolested by the too fascinated teachers.
- Item IV. We, Mary Emma Pierce and Frances Dunbar, do willingly bestow our title of "Glamor Girls" on Rachel Longshore and Beulah Barber—We hope you can handle it. (the title we mean).
- Item V. I, Dorothy Douglas, do leave my ability, or reflex, to make noise at any time and to get blamed at all times to Jackie Tankersley.
- Item VI. We, Frank Dennis and Walter Reiser, do bequeath our "bickering" to anybody who can argue about girls and Chemistry in the same breath.
- Item VII. We, Wade Sneed, Frank Knapp, C. K. Lawrence, and Jimmy Cooper, do happily leave our brickbats, bodyguards, and dark corners to Louis Brown, Robert Smith, and Ashby Taylor so they, too, may keep the "mad public" off.
- Item VIII. I, Jones Epps, do bestow upon Sammie Heaton, in hopes that he may manipulate with the same accuracy, my ability to blush and gulp "Lordy Me."
- Item IX. We, Agnes Reese and Mary Anne Toole, do leave to Claire O'Connell and "Sister Baby" Doughty our ability to carry on the most unintelligible conversation ever, and to Bobby Lansdell and Guila Stanford we leave lots of work on next year's annual.
- Item X. We, Joey Fuller and Jackie Waller, leave to Steve Mulherin and Bill Bush our opinions, both wrong, on golf, to pass the time arguing.
- Item XI. We, Helen Hull and Jane Martin, do leave to Edith Jenny the unused portion of our brains since said beneficiary is in such need of same.
- Item XII. We, one fourth period English class, do leave to My Sutton, for his long-suffering with us, one mute class.
- Item XIII. I, Mac Rhodes, do leave my technique for taking blackmail shots to anyone who doesn't value his life.
- Item XIV. I. Myra Scott, do bestow on Betty Johson, my slow speech in hopes that she may outdo Marion Knuck.
- Item XV. I, Emmet Gresham, do leave to any sucker my job as wet nurse to a bunch of smelly frogs in Doc. Ellis' lab.
- Item XVI. I, Doris Kessler, do leave to Martha Van Deusen, my eyes a la Scarlett O'Hara to be used in extreme cases of Woman-Haters only.
- Item XVII. We, Kenneth Gurley and Margnerite Symms, do bequeath our seat in English class to any couple needful of same.
- Item XVIII. I, Colleen Beazley, do leave to Eileen Stulb all of my excess height in hopes that she may be able to see a parade some day.
- Item XIX. We, the entire feminine body of this Sophomore class, bequeath our combined efforts to the incoming Freshman and Sophomore classes in hopes that one of them may be able to get at least a second look from Mr. Bolton. (Hmm!)

May it be known that from the present we pass on into the future, probably forgotten but not forgiven.

Witnesses-For their own sake, prefer to remain unknown.

To A Preserved Pig

"For of all sad words of tongue or pen,"
The saddest are these: 'It might have been!'"

-Whittier.

How often, while I've sat in "lab" In evenings after school, I've carved on bullfrogs, or on sharks, And felt just like a fool.

And now, they've started us on pigs— My very soul rebels! But when I just break down and weep, My tears are drowned in smells.

Those embryonic pork chops Are really just too fine To sacrifice for science. Why must we pick on swine?

I don't think science has a right To slaughter all that meat. Why can't we let 'em grow until They're big enough to eat?

Just think of all the ham and eggs, The pork chops and the bacon;-Perhaps I'm dreaming. If I am, Don't ever let me waken!

But after all, I'm helpless;-Though I think it is a sin, All I can do is dream about The hog that might have been.

—by Frank Harris.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

By the medium of Professor Talley's recent invention, the time machine, I have passed through the misty curtain of time to the world of ten years hence. I returned only a few minutes ago to record my incredible adventure for the world of today.

The story centers around that illustrious group of individuals, the Senior Class, who will graduate from Richmond Academy in a few short weeks.

Friday, May 2, I climbed into the cabin of the time machine, set the controls for 1951, and pressed the button that would send me into the future. The machine whirred, my eyes closed, and for a few moments my mind was a total blank.

As the whirring noise stopped, I was amazed to find myself on the top of a tall and futuristic-looking building. I recognized the old Southern Finance building across the street, and knew that I was in the Augusta of 1951.

Charging up the street came the hook and ladder truck of the fire department, Reginald Walker at the wheel and Marvin Ivey at the siren. As the truck ground to a stop, a ladder, was raised against the building and I quickly descended. I thanked my rescuers and made my way up Broad Street.

Noticing a sign reading "Elite Cleaners; Arthur Gibson, prop." I stopped at the entrance a moment only to experience a great disappointment. I never expected to see Theo Thevaos pressing pants for a living. I was heartened a little, however, to se Arthur Mosley coming down the street with five healthy youngsters.

When I stopped him to inquire about old friends, he replied, "The town has changed much in ten years. Crime is unknown today through the ceaseless efforts of District Attorney Geer, and policemen like Neal Avrett, George Bates, and Marion Hudson. Pickens Dicks is mayor, and doing a fine job of it. Pierce Merry was voted Augusta's Most Outstanding Street Cleaner last year, a most cherished honor among the members of the Augusta Street Cleaners Association. I am on my way to the local "bones" specialist—Charlie Phinizy at 711 Broad."

Leaving Arthur, I continued up Broad Street to look for more of my old friends. I saw the sign of Taylor, Harison, and Company, Second-Hand Airplane Dealers. I knew this business venture could not fail with Ashby's salesmanship and "Gummy's" flying ability. Employed as mechanics there were Frank Conant, Billy Witt, James Jennings, and Jack Browning. Small wonder that the airplane crashes for this year were so numerous.

I walked around the city until it began to get dark, noticing such signs as Popkin's Parched Peanuts, "Prontaut's Ping-Pong Balls", and "Marriott's Mange Cure". Perhaps of all the signs that pleased me most was the one which read "Stelling, Aycock, and Chalmers, Funeral Directors." Anybody would be a lucky stiff to be buried from such a modern funeral home.

As night came on, I realized that I was tired and entered Hotel Murphy to spend the night. Clarece had, as I expected, made a name for himself.

The next morning, I was overjoyed to recognize the elevator operator, Nobel Hull. After telling me of his ups and downs, he added to my information by telling me the following about my old friends.

"Connie Duvall and Blachard Dorn are farmers; Richard Jopling is a model for men's clothes in New York; Raymond Hargrove and Bill Harbin are partners in a junk yard; Joe Caldwell is in Alcatraz for taking pictures of military secrets at Fort Weatherwax. When his camera was presented for evidence at the trial, his only remark was, 'I didn't know it was loaded'."

"What happened to A. O. White?" I asked. "Is he a physics teacher?"

"No", said Noble, "he is one of the foremost designers of women's clothes. You would be surprised at many of your old friends. Dan Smoak took Robert Taylor's place a few years ago in the movies, but since Ed Shockley and Bill Short perfected television, Dan is out of a job, television has become so popular. Billy Barton pushes a mean lawn-mover in the summer and shovels snow in the winter for a living. He nearly starved last winter, for we had no snow."

As I started to leave the elevator, I asked whether or not Roosevelt was still President of the United States. His answer shocked me. I walked out of the hotel and staggered to Eighth and Broad, where I had left the time machine. Reversing the controls, I traveled back through time to 1941 without event.

As I sit here in my room, writing this story, I know that America of the future is doomed to disaster. As for myself, I will live in seclusion for the rest of my life, unknown to man. There is no hope. I feel it my duty, however, to warn the people of today that the President of the United States of America in 1951 will be Mrs. Cole's little boy, Parker.

(The above account was found in the files of the school office and is believed to be the manuscript of M. Q. Yehudi, who disappeared from school recently.

GOLD "R" SOCIETY—The Gold "R" Society is composed of students who are outstanding in their scholarship, and who also participate in extra-curricular activities of the Academy. The main consideration in this society is not necessarily scholarship. A student must be an all-round man. The following met the requirements as set up by the Honors Committee and received Gold "R's":

The Miller Scholarships provided by Mr. Frank Miller, Sr., to be awarded annually to two students entering the Junior College. One scholarship is awarded to an Academy Graduate and one to a Tubman Graduate.

The awards for 1940 were—Coley Leopard of the Academy and Edith Jenny of Tubman.

The Wallace Scholarship, provided by Mr. Fielding Wallace, to be awarded annually to a graduate of the Academy entering Junior College.

This award was made in 1940 to George Wright.

The lower classes of the Academy constitute the most important part of the school. In the Freshman Class the new and "green" cadets get their first taste of looking out for themselves and of military discipline.

In their promotion to the Sophomore Class they climb another rung in both these fields and become more familiar with the social and scholastic activities of their school.

In their Junior year they work very hard to acquire the position their first three years stand for—that of Seniors.

Thus, the first three years of high school are the first three years of self-reliance.

The SABRE CLUB

OFFICERS

Colonel Jones Epps President
Lieut.-Colonel Frank Knapp . . . Gre-President
Captain Walter Reiser Secretary
Lieut. Colonel Walter A. Elliott Advisor

The A.R.C.-J.C.A. Sabre Club, the R.O.T.C. officers' club, is one of the most firmly established and popular organizations in the school. Its members are the officer personnel of the A.R.C.-J.C.A. cadet corps. The Club is the oldest student organization still in existence. School just wouldn't seem right without the Sabre Club.

The purpose of the club is twofold: First, to provide entertainment or recreation, social or otherwise, for the members of the club; Second, to contribute in any way possible to the betterment of the military department of the Junior College of Augusta and the Academy of Richmond County.

Approximately thirty cadet officers from last year were back on hand when school opened in September. This gave a fine nucleus around which to build the 1940-41 Sabre Club. Various non-commissioned officers were commissioned by the Commandant from time to time until the officer personnel, and therefore, the membership of the Sabre Club also, had increased to sixty-two at this writing.

At the beginning of the first semester last fall, the members of the club elected officers for the year. Colonel Jones Epps was elected president, Major Frank Knapp (later promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel) vice-president, Captain Jimmy Cooper, secretary, and Captain Walter Reiser, treasurer. Lieutenant-Colonel Walter A. Elliott, A.R.C.-J.C.A. cadet corps commandant, acts as advisor to the club. The club meets every other Wednesday afternoon at the end of the sixth period in Study Hall 324. To remain in good standing, members must not miss more than two meetings in one semester.

During the past years the Sabre Club has made a great many concrete contributions to the school. Two of the cups presented each year to the best-drilled units in the military department were bought by the Sabre Club. Also, the Sabre Club presents a medal to the best-drilled freshman cadet each year. When Major W. A. Elliott received his promotion to Lieutenant-Colonel last fall, the club, at a special joint A. R. C.-J. C. A. Chapel, presented the new lieutenant-colonel with a set of insignia.

The outstanding functions of the Sabre Club have always been its dances, and this year was no exception. Shortly after the beginning of the second semester, the club gave a dance at the American Legion Hall in Julian Smith Park. Major Ernest Wiggins, chairman of the dance committee, was instrumental in making the dance a great financial success. Practically all the Sabre Club members were present in full dress uniform. This group was augmented by a large turnout of the local younger set in "civies". Accompanying most of these were their respective "girl friends". At this dance the captains, majors, and colonels appeared with their sponsors for the first time at the military formation. The next social event was another dance during the Easter holidays. This dance was held in the school gym and was sponsored jointly by the Sabre Club and Student Council. A great many of the faces seen on this occasion were those of former A. R. C. - J. C. A. cadet officers who were home for the holidays.

Members of the club and the entire school are looking forward with mounting interest to the Annual Banquet and Sponsors' Ball, which will be held just before the end of the school year. The two events are indeed the highlights of the social year at A.R.C.-

J.C.A., and this year's social committee has as its goal to make them better than ever. Without the Sabre Club the social life of our school would be incomplete.

Of course, the prime interest of the club is the military department. Naturally each of the officers is interested in bettering his own organization in every way possible. For this reason the Sabre Club stresses military perfection and appearance. One of the things instituted by the club this year was the acquisition of a distinct type of hat for the officers. These new style hats were adopted by the club by a vote of 60 to 1, and added a great deal to the appearance of the club as a whole.

When the time came to elect officers for the second semester, the entire slate of first semester officers was unanimously reelected. When the Sponsors' Ball and Banquet are over, the club will have completed a busy year. Always a center of activity, the tradition-laden organization held its reputation of being in the front ranks among student organizations, and we feel sure that 50 or 60 years from now, the Sabre Club will still have an important part in the life of our school.

Captain Walter Reiser

The Military Sponsors

To the officer of the R.O.T.C. go a commission and the honor of having a sponsor, who is formally presented by him at an annual spring Military Ball. During the year, these sponsors are honored at many brilliant parties. At the Prize Drill the sponsors sit on the review stand and present the officers with their individual awards.

The Sheridan Memorial Sabre

The Richard B. Sheridan Memorial Sabre is an annual award made possible through the thoughtfulness and generosity of the Reserve Officers Association. The award is in memory of Richard B. Sheridan, an honor graduate of the Academy of Richmond County and of the Junior College of Augusta, who lost his life in a football game at Yale.

This is considered one of the most beautiful and appropriate annual awards at the two schools. It is made to that student, who in the judgment of the Commandant and his aides and the faculties, approximates closest the noble statute of Richard B. Sheridan as was known to his contemporaries. He must therefore, excel in all phases of his school life and relationships.

Alfred Battey, 1940 Winner

Jones Epps, 1939 Winner

The winner of this award must be first of all a clean, unaffected gentleman. He must have a high academic record, be outstanding as a cadet, a good athlete, and exemplify in his conduct the virtues of honesty, sincerity, and courage. These were the qualities of Richard Sheridan. And more, the winner of this award must show that he has a purpose toward which he moves with that same kind of dash and aggressiveness with whch Richard Sheridan flashed down Yale field toward the goal that fateful afternoon to be thwarted only by the unconquerable foe of all brave men—death.

"Steadily Forward" is the road the Academy Band has trod since their shallow organization in 1925 by the late D. M. Lincul.

The small band struggled along on little practice and a small amount of enthusiasm until 1938. At this time, Mr. Eric West Hardy, newly elected president, set out on a campaign to obtain a great band of one hundred pieces. His efforts aroused others' interest, and through the aid of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other alumni the band was outfitted in fine uniforms of purple and gold. Since that time the band has become a part of all community functions, playing at parades, speakers' dinners, bridge openings, and conventions.

Their leader, Mr. G. W. Carson, has the ceaseless task of arranging the music, checking the instruments, seeing that the boys are notified on the days they are to wear their uniforms, and many obligations incidental to directing and leading the music at all times.

To Mr. Carson and the Band we say "thanks" and keep up the good work.

The Coaching Staff

Athletics, as a part of the School's Program in the Academy of Richmond County and Junior College of Augusta, is given an important place in the curriculum. The Department is ably staffed by an efficient corps of Coaches. Mr. C. M. Etheredge, Athletic Director, has been the faculty member responsible for athletics in both our schools for the past three years. His job is to attend to the financial details of the program, the arrangements of schedules, the purchasing and caring for equipment, and innumerable other details which arise in connection with a successful athletic program.

The athletic program begins for our school system in the sixth and seventh grades of the grammar schools. A schedule of games in the Grammar School League includes football, basketball, track, and baseball. In charge of this program is Coach Charlie Royston, who has successfully administered the Grammar School League for the past three years. A great deal of interest has been evidenced in sports by the grammar school boys: a large number of boys is a large school boys; a large number of boys in our present varsity squads began their training under Coach Royston.

In the Academy of Richmond County the program of sports includes football, basketball, track, golf, tennis, and on occasions, swimming, and baseball. In the Junior College the program is more limited and includes only basketball for boys and girls, and golf for the boys. This program reaches a big percentage of the students in both schools, as it includes inter-mural games.

Coaches Ewing and Rollins Sizing Up the Situation

Head Coach Wendell Sullivan

Coach Wendell Sullivan has been head coach of football in the Academy since 1938. Coach Sullivan came to the Academy from Decatur High School in 1937 as assistant coach. He has developed outstanding football teams during his three years as head coach. Coach Sullivan is also head coach of basketball in the Academy. His record of success here is as great as it is in football.

Assisting Mr. Sullivan is Mr. Roy Rollins, Line Coach for the Academy Football Team, who is also head coach of the Junior College Boys' Basketball Team. Mr. Rollins came to the Academy in 1838 and deserves much credit for the success of the football and basketball teams.

and Athletic Program

Coach Roy Rollins Football and Basketbali

Coach Langston Bolton Track and "B" Varsity Football.

Coach Charlie Royston Director of Grammar School Athletics and Girls' Basketball.

Coach George Ewing

Golf, and Tennis.

Coaching the "B" Varsity Football Team are Mr. George Ewing and Mr. Langston Bolton. These two men have done an excellent job in developing players for the Varsity Team. They have likewise played a successful program of games for the "B" Varsity. Mr. Bolton is head track coach and has developed many outstanding track men in the Academy. Mr. Ewing is in charge of golf and tennis. During the time he has coached golf the Academy has had several outstanding High School Golf Teams.

From this resume of the activities of our coaching staff it is easily seen that athletics play an important role in our school program. Our schools are exceptionally fortunate both as to the ability and type of coaching staff which we have had. We can point with pride to the results achieved by our coaches and to the influences they have had on the lives of the boys and girls in our school. As we go forward in our program of sports, it is our hope that more and more students may participate in this part of our school life. We believe that the training and developing of the body is as important as the developing and training of the mind and we know that with our highly efficient staff of coaches we may hope for as much success in this training as we have achieved in scholastic attainments for our school.

The Season Begins

RICHMOND 6 — MONROE 0

The Academy Musketeers opened the 1940 gridiron campaign with a fine victory over the Monroe Aggies. Both teams played about even for three periods with James Mc-Nair carrying the brunt of the Academy attack. McNair was injured toward the end of first half and was taken to the hospital for head injury treatment. In the second half, a fast-stepping halfback, Lionel Gulledge, ran behind superb blocking to within scoring position. To Capt. Joe Murray went the honor of scoring the first touchdown of the season on a wide left-end sweep. The fine blocking and spirit of the whole team showed the capacity crowd that the Richmond Musketeers was the team to watch.

A "Honey" of A Kick!

RICHMOND 25—ELBERTON 0

A game and scrapping Elberton High School team put up a good game, but proved no match for the speedy Cadets. Lionel Gulledge continued from the first game to show he was a great ball-carrier by scoring two touchdowns. Joe Murray and Carl Sanders scored the other points. The numerous reserves used by Coach Sullivan played good ball while they were in the game.

RICHMOND 14 — Jordan 39

The first of the out-of-town jinx games took place in Columbus on October 4, when the Musketeers fumbled away their chances for an unbeaten season in the G.I.A.A. The Red Jackets capitalized on Richmond's fumbles and drove through the line to build up a 33-7 half-time lead. Richmond played stronger in the second half with Murray and Gulledge leading them on but could not overcome the Jordan lead.

RICHMOND 6—SAVANNAH 0

After being on the defense most of the game, the scrapping Cadets made one near perfect offensive plunge to upset the Geechees from Savannah. Savannah played in Richmond territory most of the first half, but never found the spark to put across a score. Very noticeable in this game was the repeatedly fast charging of guard Marion Hudson, who seemed to be a fifth man in the Savannah backfield. The one beautifully executed play that scored was a fake from Gulledge to Murray, then a pass into the right flat to Willis, who sprinted across into pay dirt.

Summary of Schedule

RICHMOND 34—COLUMBUS 7

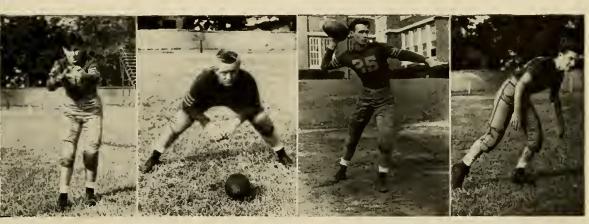

Coming from behind in the first half, the Golden Horde tripped another G.1.A.A. foe. Richmond tore up the Columbus line in the last half with Gulledge, Murray, and McNair doing the work. Culpepper stood out in the line of defense. Howard Willis continued to shine from his end position with end arounds and pass snatching ability. Simmons and Sanders came into the game and continued the track meet with good ball "toting".

RICHMOND 25—RIVERSIDE 6

The Musketeers reached their peak by defeating a heavy Riverside eleven. The Cadets made up for the weight advantage Riverside held by outrunning, passing, and punting the Gainesville Cadets. The blocking and tackling were both good. Paul Plunkett shone best in the line as did Bryant and Hudson. Murray again called a fine game, and Gulledge continued to run wild.

RICHMOND 7—COLUMBIA 20

The gallant Cadets took a trouncing from a heavier Columbia High on November 2 in Columbia for the second of the out-of-town jinx games. Richmond went down fighting bravely, led by Captain Murray and the fine passing of Gulledge. Can't win every time.

The Varsity Season

RICHMOND 19—BENEDICTINE 18

From a slow start, the Musketeers finally picked up speed and outplayed the Irish from Savannah. Gulledge and Murray teamed together to upset the Irish in the second half. Sanders also took part of the limelight in the backfield. Very good line backing by Rogers slowed Benedictine down. The guards, Bryant and Hudson, played like demons on defense. A well-earned victory.

RICHMOND 13—CAMDEN 0

A small crowd saw the Purple and Gold warriors defeat a scrappy Camden eleven. It was a bitter cold night, but there were few fumbles. McNair and Joe Murray handled the ball well in the backfield, while Paul Plunkett and Ed Marsh played fine in the line. Richmond just had too much for the South Carolians.

RICHMOND 25 — COMMERCIAL 0

Before a near capacity crowd on Thanksgiving Day, the Richmond Academy Musketeers pulled the curtain down on the home games by trouncing the Atlanta boys. Joe Murray and Lionel Gulledge did themselves proud by showing great form in ball carrying. The passes seemed to click just perfectly, and this meant the margin of victory. The entire line played great and were a stone wall on defense.

RICHMOND 0 — LANIER 25

Our out-of-town woes came to a sad ending as our worst rivals, Lanier, upset the Cadets' winning ways in Macon. Although the Musketeers outgained the Poets in passing and in first downs, they failed on the ground game and never entered into pay dirt the whole night. Murray was a real threat but had not enough help. It was a hard way to end what should be considered a highly successful season of eight victories and three losses.

J.C.A. Team in Action Against A.R.C.

The J.C.A. BOYS

Much of the success and credit of the J.C.A. Boys' team should be given to Coach Roy Rollins. A splendid player himself, he coached these boys exceedingly well and belped them through many hard battles by his clear thinking and good sportsmanship. Although they lost some of their games, they always came back to win others.

BASKETBALL

Basketball at the Academy has come to take an important place in our thoughts. The success of the teams under Coach Rollins has been outstanding. The boys have learned to play clever and fast basketball, but more important for them and for our school they have learned to play clean basketball. Team play and good sportsmanship characterize all of Rollins' teams.

Coach Charlie Royston

The Season's Hilites of J. C. A.

The J.C.A. girls got off to a fine start this year, but in the middle of the season Coach Charlie Royston was called into Military Service and had to leave before half the games were finished. Coach Royston has been coaching the girls' teams for the past several years. The girls persuaded Mr. Albert F. Simpson to take over Mr. Royston's place as coach for the remainder of the season. "Red" Fulcher was again the spearhead of the J.C.A. attack. She has really been the spark of the team since she came to J.C.A. from Harlem High. Although the team did not match some of its past records, the girls counted it a successful season.

Membership is open to any student who meets the requirements of membership set up by the Honors Committee. Points are awarded for any outstanding contribution made by the student in Scholarship, Leadership, Athletics, Military Science, or Literature and Arts. The last group includes work on school publications, debate and declamation teams, glee club, and orchestra. Students are required to have a satisfactory scholastic record, and to have outstanding records in one major activity and two minor activity groups, before they are eligible for election to membership. The wearers of the Gold "R" are the best all-round students in the school.

The National Beta Club is a non-secret organization of senior high school students of America. There are now approximately 18,000 members in 1068 chapters in fifteen states. The qualifications for membership are creditable achievement, superior mentality, good character, and commendable attitude. Each local chapter fixes its own requirements for election. Students in the Academy are eligible for election after completing two years with honors in scholastic work.

The Junior College Y.W.C.A. is an organization having a voluntary membership of all J.C.A. girls. Its twofold purpose is to enforce Christian teaching and fellowship among the girls of the school. Bi-monthly the girls entertain the boys of The Triangle Club with a supper and program. These gettogethers have become a tradition and are looked forward to by the members of both organizations with much eagerness; the boys then return the compliment and try to outdo the girls, and the fight is cheerfully carried on for the remainder of the season.

The name Hi-Y indicates the relationship between a group of High School fellows and the Y.M.C.A. movement. The purpose of the Richmond Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character. The club stands on the platform of Clean Speech, Clean Sports, Clean Scholarship, and Clean Living.

There are over 300 Hi-Y Clubs in the state of Georgia, and this year marked the twenty-first anniversary of Hi-Y in Georgia. The Anniversary Supper was held in Atlanta this year, and a group of Richmond boys had a very interesting time there. The Richmond Hi-Y ranked 6th in the Club Standings in the May 1940 to December 1940 records of all clubs in Georgia.

The Richmond Hi-Y meets every Tuesday night at 7:30, aided by their faculty advisor, Mr. W. P. Watkins, and Mr. Parker, who is Boys Secretary of the local Y.M.C.A. There is a total of thirty members in the club. The boys selected for membership are from the three upper classes and are selected on a basis of character, student activity, and scholarship. The officers are elected at the beginning of each semester. For the first semester the following boys were named: Douglas Graves, Jr., president; Kessel Stelling, vice-president; Mell Aycock, secretary; Edgar Cato, treasurer; Josh Sherman, chaplain; and Jimmy Ross, sergeant-at-arms.

For the second semester the following officers were elected: Mell Aycock, president; Billy Lee, vic-president; Kessel Stelling, secretary; Harry Miller, treasurer; Charlie Phinizy, chaplain; and Herbert Thompson, sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. A. E. Anderson, Director

ORCHESTRA

Quietly, inconspicuously, and without fanfare, a group of Junior College and Academy boys, all talented, prodigious musicians, gathered together under the benevolent direction of Maestro Anderson for the specific purpose of producing melodic harmonies through orchestral cooperation.

Notwithstanding their unique abilities, there was a missing ingredient—a lost chord, as it were. The somewhat harsh tones of the heavy brass choir and the dull thumping of the percussion instruments necessitated a smoother, lighter touch. Where better could this be obtained than from some members of the fairer sex? Therefore, two lovely young women added their graces to the combination. This delicate touch transformed the orchestra, And thus came into being what is commonly known as "Anderson's No-Jive Orchestra."

The string choir consists of violins so dextrously played that they bring tears to the eyes of even the most heartless members the faculty (of which there are a goodly number). The blaring brasses keep the effects balanced with their contrasting "oomppah's". Background is furnished by the capable percussion section.

Altogether the school orchestra is to be commended for its incomparable and artistic arrangements, smooth flowing melodies, sympathetic interpretations, and, especially, for starting and stopping at the same time.

SIGMA DELTA CHI Sorority

This, the oldest sorority at Junior College, was organized for the purpose of establishing sincere and permanent friendships among the girl students.

Last year, the following officers were slated: President, Connie Elliott; Vice-President, Teeny Tucker; Secretary, Elle Carswell; Treasurer, Betty Andrews. The 1940-41 members of the Sigma Delta Chi have seen these officers off to senior college and new officers elected.

One of the outstanding attractions of this year was the football game between the rival sororities. This friendly feud was not even settled by football because the game ended in a scoreless tie.

In November, the annual Sadie Hawkins' dance was held. So successful and popular was this opportunity for both showing one's originality in selecting costumes and for displaying one's Tersichorean ability that some of the members' pictures were published in a college magazine.

Initiation week is an occasion for oral merriment on the part of everyone but the downtrodden pledges. This year the new members were forced to wear a red dress, a red bow in their rolled-up hair, tennis shoes, and no makeup for a week. If a pledge failed to come to school dressed to comply with the rules, she was compelled to array herself in this fashion an extra week.

There is no better way of understanding the people of a nation than by studying their literature and music. In these days of unrest it has been the a'm of this society to try to follow the growth of the principles of democracy in American literature so that we shall more fully appreciate the cost, and so that we may better preserve a government of the people, for the people, and by the people.

A secondary aim has been to train each member to understand the principles of debate, to be able to speak extemporaneously, and to speak more forcibly before a crowd. Also, we add to our culture by studying the works and actions of our leaders, whether they be poets, journalists, statesmen, or humorists.

Junior College Literary Society

The purpose of the Junior College Literary Society is to instill within its members a higher sense of value for the development and also for the discovering of any talents which they might possess. It seeks to accomplish this purpose by having members give impromptu talks, debates, and book reviews. Many outside speakers have lent their influence toward helping the society reach its goal. This organization has also presented a series of radio plays under the direction of Mr. George M. Scott, Professor of English at the Junior College and Academy.

The Literary Society is a truly worth while organization and is worthy of the support of all Junior College students.

ALPHA LAMBDA SIGMA

Under the able leadership of Mr. Frank Harriss, the Alpha Lambda Sigma has made great improvement in the speaking of its members. Formerly, a large amount of time was wasted in arguing upon three comparatively unimportant factors: the constitution, the dues, and the initiation. To start the new term right, these three factors were voted as abolished by a large majority of the membership. Next, officers were elected, the meetings were changed from bi-monthly to weekly, and the club was ready for serious work.

These changes, as it has been proved, were made to good advantage. Since the first meeting, each member has voluntarily taken an active part in the programs. Members are encouraged, not required, to participate in these programs. Encouragement has shown itself to be the best policy.

The spirit shown by the boys is remarkable in itself. Instead of being driven to take part in debates, declamations, and other activities, the members actually put forth a great amount of effort to secure a place for themselves upon the team.

Several declamations, debates, and plays have been presented to the club. One of these, "David Harum", was one of the first student productions of Richmond Academy to be broadcast over the radio.

The declamation and debating contests, sponsored by the society, brought together a large number of contestants, one of the largest in the history of the club, to compete for these honors. It is keen competition of this kind that is needed to bring out good speaking qualities in an otherwise commonplace speaker.

It is hoped, that out of this constant striving for better more effective speech, there will come young men who will have the ability to stand on their own feet and tell the world what they think without that clammy feeling of unpreparedness.

CAMERA CLUB

Two years ago, through the generosity of the Science Department and the administration, enough photographic equipment was purchased to furnish adequately a school dark room. Many camera fans who had no dark rooms of their own, and who dared to use the family kitchen or bath room no longer began using the school's equipment. These persons, and others similarly interested, organized themselves into several camera clubs, one for freshmen and sophomores, one for juniors and seniors, and another for J.C.A. On various rather irregular occasions, the groups assembled to take pictures together, discuss their problems, or compare results.

PRE-TECH CLUB

The Pre-Tech Club was formed last year as an aid those boys interested in scientific and technical subjects. Membership is limited to students in the Junior and Senior Classes of the Academy and Junior College. Most of the members hope to become engineers; therefore, studying engineering is the club's purpose. The two faculty advisors, Mr. N. C. Smith and Mr. J. L. Talley, have both studied engineering in one of more of its phases.

The club's constitution provides for election of officers each semester and for frequent plant visitations to study manufacturing processes.

Although it is one of the youngest clubs in the school, the Pre-Tech Club has already taken its place among the most active of school organizations.

The Order of DeMolay is one of the finest and strongest organizations for youth in America today. In its halls are taught invaluable lessons which prepare the youth of this order for the approaching years of manhood. DeMolay endeavors to bridge the gap between this youth and manhood. Some of the more important principles are Cleanness in thought, word, body, and deed; Reverence for all things sacred; Courtesy toward all with whom the DeMolay comes in contact; Fidelity to his ideals, to his comrades, and to his obligations: Patriotism—a love of country which makes him live worthily in peace or die bravely if the need should arise; Filial Love that so often is lacking in the young man of today; and Comradeship, which enriches and ennobles his life. These, and many more, are the lessons taught by the Order of DeMolay.

The Augusta Chapter, Order of DeMolay is especially noted for its dances and socials. The dances it sponsors are rated by many as the best in Augusta.

A very important part of the staff is the host of reporters who contribute many and interesting stories of life and affairs around the two schools.

Among the oldest clubs in the school is the Pre-Law Club. This organization was created for a manifold purpose. Primarily, it was organized to familiarize interested students with the general aspect of law However, it is intended, also, to acquaint the student with parliamentary procedure, and to give some training in public speaking—an excellent asset in these times. Behind these aims is the desire for friendship and closer association between students.
